

Doosan

Doosan Infracore produces medium and heavy-sized construction machinery for the international market. Since 1990 the company has been growing its worldwide production and business network. Now the company is a leading construction machinery maker, recognized internationally for its leading-edge information technology and electronics. It has also attained recognition for its compliance with global environmental policies. Doosan has made large-scale factories for manufacturing construction machines within China, Korea and Belgium. The successful establishment of a worldwide dealership network has earned the company status as a global player with sales subsidiaries and branches in many nations. In China, customers ranked Doosan the highest for client satisfaction in the excavator industry from the year 2003 to the year 2010.

Doosan Infracore's efforts to become among the Top 3 construction equipment manufacturer in the world are based on a customer and market-oriented organizational platform and synergies with companies such as Bobcat. Expansions comprise North Dakota-based Bobcat compact construction machines and Montabert attachments. Bobcat Company has been a leader in developing compact construction machinery for over fifty years. Construction work sites around the world depend on the famous Bobcat brand. Bobcat's commitment to manufacturing top quality construction machines has fostered a worldwide production system encompassing Asia, Europe and North America. Bobcat produces mini excavators, compact track loaders, skid-steer loaders, telescopic tool carriers and mini track loaders.

With a worldwide customer base, Bobcat compact skid-steer loaders and compact track loaders hold the top share of their respective markets, whilst the mini excavator holds third place in global market share. Despite the worldwide economic slump in recent years, that led to a slowdown within the market for compact construction equipment, the Bobcat brand has continued to lead the way with mini excavators and compact skid-steer loaders. The Bobcat brand in synergy with Doosan Infracore would continue to be at the forefront of the business of manufacturing construction equipment.